Computer Engineer | Software Developer | Game Developer

During my education life, I took part in many organizations and formations. In this way, I improved myself in teamwork and human relations. I like to constantly improve myself and to follow new technologies closely. I can quickly adapt to different areas and improve myself quickly. I am a person who fully fulfills the given tasks and responsibilities. I love teamwork. I attach great importance to learning new information and improving my skills. In this direction, I think I can improve myself and be useful to the company I work for.
